Parking

(you may want to view the campus map)

Cars

The Carlos Museum is located on the main quadrangle of Emory University, near the university entrance on North Decatur Road at Oxford Road. Visitor Parking is available in the Fishburne Parking Deck off Fishburne Drive. The Museum is a short walk from here. Before 6 p.m. cars may park in the visitor level of the Fishburne Parking Deck off Fishburne Drive. After 6 p.m. free parking is available in any space on campus not reserved by an orange park or a handicapped sign. All visitors to the Emory University campus pay parking before 6 p.m. Monday-Friday. Parking on the weekend is free to all visitors at Emory University.

Buses

Buses should enter the campus by turning onto Fishburne Drive from Clifton Road. Proceed down the hill to the brick-paved bus drop-off zone. After dropping students off, buses should continue left on Fishburne Drive, then right at the stop sign. The Bus Parking zone will be visible on the left in front of Glenn Memorial Church.

Inclement weather

Cars may turn right onto S. Kilgo Circle (second right turn after entering campus), and come up to the doors of the Museum to let passengers out; then they may continue on South Kilgo Circle (crossing over the bridge) to Fishburne Drive and the Fishburne Parking Deck. It is NOT recommended that buses follow this route, as it will be necessary for them to back down South Kilgo Circle.

Handicapped Parking

Reserved handicapped parking spaces are located on South Kilgo Circle at the Plaza Level entrance to the Museum.
